SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

The Chief Justice said:

"I have the honor to announce, on behalf of the Court, that the October 1997 Term of the Supreme Court of the United States is now closed, and the October 1998 Term is now convened.

"As we open this morning, I want to pay tribute to our friend and colleague, Lewis F. Powell, a retired Justice of this Court, who died on August 25, 1998, at his home in Richmond, Virginia.

"Lewis Powell took the Oath of Office on January 7, 1972, becoming the 99th Justice to serve on this Court. He retired on June 26, 1987. Following his retirement, he sat on the Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, and taught at both Washington and Lee and the University of Virginia.

"Justice Powell was born on September 19, 1907, in Suffolk, Virginia. He graduated first in his class at Washington and Lee College in 1929, then completed his law degree in two years and went on to receive his LL.M. from Harvard Law School in 1932. In that year, he began practicing law in his native city of Richmond. In 1941, at the time of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, he was 34 years old. Though his age and family responsibilities would have excluded him from the draft, he volunteered and was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Air Force, rising in rank to Colonel, and winning the Legion of Merit and Bronze Star medals. He served overseas with distinction as an Intelligence Officer in the Air Force for four years during World War II and its aftermath.

"After serving the country during the war, he returned to Richmond and the law firm of Hunton and Williams. Throughout his career in Virginia, he gave generously of his time and energy to the Richmond community and to the Commonwealth. He served as the President of the Virginia State Board of Education as well as Chairman of the Richmond Public School Board. He was elected to serve as the President of the American Bar Association and was appointed by President Johnson as a member of the National Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

"At the age of 64, already occupying a secure place among the legal leaders of the United States, his country called again and he accepted an appointment to this Court as his patriotic duty. We who served with him during his fifteen years on this Court cherished his intellect, gentlemanly charm, and consummate judicial temperament. We continue to miss him. At an appropriate time in the spring, the traditional memorial observance of the Court and the Bar of the Court will be held in this Courtroom.

"We have also suffered another loss within the past week. We note with sadness today that the Supreme Court's Public Information Officer, Toni House, died on September 29, 1998. She served the Court well for sixteen years. We will miss her, and extend our condolences to her family.

"Today's orders of the Court have been certified by The Chief Justice, filed with the Clerk, and will not be announced orally."

CERTIORARI GRANTED

No. 97-1754. Immigration and Naturalization Service, Petitioner v. Juan Anibal Aguirre-Aguirre. Petition for writ of certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit granted.

No. 97-1008. Carolyn C. Cleveland, Petitioner v. Policy Management Systems Corporation, et al. Petition for writ of certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit granted limited to the following questions: 1. Whether the application for, or receipt of, disability insurance benefits under the Social Security Act, 42 U. S. C. § 423, creates a rebuttable presumption that the applicant or recipient is judicially estopped from asserting that she is a “qualified individual with a disability” under the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, 42 U. S. C. § 12101 et seq. 2. If it does not create such a presumption, what weight, if any, should be given to the application for, or receipt of, disability insurance benefits when a person asserts she is a “qualified individual with a disability” under the ADA?

No. 97-1802. David Conn and Carol Najera, Petitioners v. Paul L. Gabbert. Petition for writ of certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit granted limited to the following questions: 1. Does a prosecutor violate an attorney’s rights under the Fourteenth Amendment by causing the attorney to be searched at the time his client is testifying before a grand jury? 2. If the answer to the first question is “yes,” was such a right on the part of the attorney clearly established in March 1994?

No. 97-8629. Eddie Richardson, Petitioner v. United States. Motion of petitioner for leave to proceed in forma pauperis granted. Petition for writ of certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit granted limited to the following question: “Whether the district court committed reversible error in failing to instruct the jury that it must agree unanimously on which particular drug violations constituted the ‘series of violations’ required for conviction for conducting a continuing criminal enterprise in violation of 21 U. S. C. § 848.”

No. 97-9361. Louis Jones, Petitioner v. United States. Motion of petitioner for leave to proceed in forma pauperis granted. Petition for writ of certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit granted limited to the following questions: 1. Whether petitioner was entitled to a jury instruction that the jury's failure to agree on a sentencing recommendation automatically would result in a court-imposed sentence of life imprisonment without possibility of release. 2. Whether there is a reasonable likelihood that the jury instructions led the jury to believe that deadlock on the penalty recommendation would automatically result in a court-imposed sentence less severe than life imprisonment. 3. Whether the court of appeals correctly held that the submission of invalid non-statutory aggravating factors was harmless beyond a reasonable doubt.

No. 98-5864. Tommy David Strickler, Petitioner v. Fred W. Greene, Warden. Motion of petitioner for leave to proceed in forma pauperis granted. Petition for writ of certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit granted limited to the following questions: 1. Whether the State violated Brady v. Maryland, 373 U. S. 83 (1963), and its progeny. 2. If so, whether the State's non-disclosure of exculpatory evidence and the State's representation that its open file contained all Brady material establishes the requisite "cause" for failing to raise a Brady claim in state proceedings. 3. Whether petitioner was prejudiced by non-disclosure.

Present: Chief Justice Rehnquist, Justice O'Connor, Justice Kennedy, Justice Souter, Justice Thomas, Justice Ginsburg, and Justice Breyer.

The Chief Justice said:

"As we open this morning, I announce with sadness that our friend and colleague Harry A. Blackmun, a former Justice of this Court, died on Thursday morning, March 4, 1999, at Arlington Hospital, in Arlington, Virginia.

Justice Blackmun was born in Nashville, Illinois, in 1908, and grew up in St. Paul, Minnesota. He received a scholarship to Harvard where he majored in mathematics and graduated summa cum laude. He received his law degree from Harvard Law School in 1932.

Justice Blackmun began his legal career serving as a law clerk to Judge John Sanborn on the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit. After his clerkship, he spent sixteen years in private practice, specializing in taxation, litigation, wills, and estate planning. He then became the first resident counsel at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, where he combined his love for law and medicine. In 1959, President Eisenhower nominated him to serve on the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit, filling the vacant seat of Judge Sanborn for whom he had clerked 26 years earlier. After serving nine years on the Eighth Circuit, he was appointed by President Nixon to a seat on the Supreme Court in June 1970.

Justice Blackmun was the 98th Justice to serve on the Court and served for nearly a quarter of a century. He spoke for the Court in more than 350 opinions. The publicity that the Roe v. Wade opinion received may have obscured many other important decisions he authored. Those include Mistretta v. United States, in which the Sentencing Guidelines were held to be constitutional; Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharmaceuticals, Inc., concerning the admissibility of scientific evidence in federal courts; and Virginia State Board of Pharmacy v. Virginia Citizens Consumer Council, Inc., which opened new horizons on First Amendment protection of commercial speech, to name just three. He was a worthy successor to the predecessors in the seat which he occupied—Joseph Story, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Benjamin Cardozo, and Felix Frankfurter. He will be missed by his friends throughout the judiciary and the country.

"I speak for the members of this Court in expressing our profound sympathy to Mrs. Blackmun, and his daughters Nancy, Sally, and Susan, and to his grandchildren. The recess this Court takes today will be in his memory. At an appropriate time, the traditional memorial observance of the Court and the Bar of the Court will be held in this Courtroom."

The Chief Justice said:

"Today's orders of the Court have been certified by The Chief Justice, filed with the Clerk, and will not be announced orally."

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Present: Chief Justice Rehnquist, Justice Stevens, Justice O'Connor, Justice Scalia, Justice Kennedy, Justice Souter, Justice Thomas, and Justice Ginsburg.

The Chief Justice said:

"The Court is in special session this afternoon to receive the Resolutions of the Bar of the Supreme Court in tribute to our former colleague and friend, Justice Lewis F. Powell, Jr.

"The Court recognizes the Solicitor General.

The Solicitor General addressed the Court as follows:

"Mr. Chief Justice, and may it please the Court: At a meeting today of the Bar of this Court, Resolutions memorializing our deep respect and affection for Justice Powell were unanimously adopted. With the Court's leave, I shall summarize the Resolutions and ask that they be set forth in their entirety in the records of the Court.

"RESOLUTION"

"Born in 1907, Lewis Powell was raised in Richmond, Virginia. He attended college and law school at Washington and Lee University, and practiced law in Richmond for nearly 40 years, becoming the city's premier attorney and one of its foremost citizens. Much of the time he spent building a corporate practice, but to an astonishing degree he also dedicated himself to public service.

"When the United States entered the Second World War, Lewis Powell was too old to be drafted and he had at least three good reasons not to volunteer. A loving wife and two beautiful daughters. But as Lewis told Jo, 'I never could have looked my children in the face if I had ducked this responsibility.' And Lewis Powell never ducked any responsibility.

"The Bar resolution details his extraordinary war service including his critical work as a member of the Special Branch. When the war ended, he returned home as a full colonel, with chest full of decorations. There was no part of his career of which Lewis Powell was more proud.

"Back home, he renewed the process of building a law practice, and attending, pro bono, to the legal needs of many organizations in his community. He became known as the leading 'free' lawyer in Richmond. By far the most important—and controversial—of his public activities was his stewardship of the Richmond public schools. Lewis Powell was the chairman of the School Board when this Court announced its landmark decision in Brown v. Board of Education. Today, no other decision in this Court is more secure in moral standing or public esteem. But in 1956, Senator Byrd, the acknowledged leader of Virginia politics, called for ‘massive resistance.’ Virginia’s governor-elect vowed to: ‘Dedicate our every capacity to preserve segregation in the schools.’ The State prepared to shut down public schools altogether rather than allow black and white children to sit together.

“It was Lewis Powell’s fate to confront the hysteria of massive resistance in the capital of the old Confederacy. Publicly he said nothing, but behind the scenes he fought hard to keep the schools open. When he stepped down from the School Board, integration had begun. Critics complained about the pace of progress, but the schools had been kept open.

“In 1964, Lewis Powell became President of the American Bar Association, where he made three lasting accomplishments. He began a project that produced the new Code of Professional Responsibility. He commenced a comprehensive study of standards for the administration of criminal justice. And he called for a dramatic expansion of legal services for the poor—a proposal that led to the birth of the Legal Services Program.

“He also became an increasingly prominent voice on crime, insisting on the rule of law, criticizing civil disobedience from the left and the right, and reminding everyone that the first duty of government is ‘to protect citizens in their persons and property from criminal conduct—whatever its source or cause.’ As a member of President Johnson’s Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice, he expressed his personal views in a ‘Supplemental Statement’ to the Commission’s report, establishing himself as a respectful, but unmistakably conservative, critic of the Warren Court’s criminal procedure decisions.

“Three times Lewis Powell declined invitations to be considered for nomination to the Supreme Court, citing his age and a concern that his nomination might provoke divisive opposition. Only when President Nixon personally called and invoked his duty to the nation, did Lewis Powell acquiesce.

“During his 15 years on this Court, Justice Powell found himself at the political center. Often, his was the decisive voice—the voice of a thoughtful moderate, steadfast in firm convictions but respectful of compromise, mindful of context, and distrustful of sweeping generalization.

"The resolution addresses three areas, abortion, affirmative action, and capital punishment that revealed Justice Powell's exceptional impact on the development of American Constitutional Law. In each he sought to bring his understanding of constitutional principles and constitutional precedents, and his instinct for a middle course, to bear on deeply difficult questions that continue to divide this country.

"Justice Powell was in the majority in Roe v. Wade, and in every other abortion decision during his tenure. On the one hand, he steadfastly supported Roe against challenges and limitations, including attempts to require a parent's or husband's consent. But, on the other he upheld laws requiring an unmarried minor to notify her parents, and he consistently refused to order public funding abortion. Perhaps, more than those of any other, Justice Powell's votes determined the scope of the constitutional right to abortion.

"So also with affirmative action. In the famous Bakke decision, Justice Powell made a 'majority of one' to tolerate racial preferences in higher education but only as a temporary and contested deviation from the ideal of color-blindness. Four Justices were prepared to allow minority preferences more or less without limitation, and four others interpreted a federal statute to disallow them more or less without exception. Justice Powell cast the deciding vote in both directions. On the one hand, he thought it necessary that affirmative steps be permitted to overcome America's long history of racial oppression. On the other hand, he feared the entrenchment of a racial and ethnic spoils system that would prove permanently durable and socially divisive. Characteristically, Justice Powell sought a middle course. He tried to permit racial preferences without conceding their future, to authorize such objections while preserving the grounds of objection to them.

"The middle ground staked out in Bakke was filled by 13 additional affirmative action decisions during his tenure. In all of them, Justice Powell was in the majority. In all of them, he struck a delicate balance. Both sides owe something to the lonely wisdom of Lewis Powell.

"Furman v. Georgia was argued only 10 days after Justice Powell took his seat on this Court. His forceful dissent argued that the death penalty should be upheld. When a majority of the Justices nevertheless determined to strike down existing laws, 35 States promptly enacted new ones, and 17 made death mandatory for certain broad classes of homicide.

"In 1976, the Court heard five cases addressing a representative sample of the new statutes. Four Justices voted to uphold all the statutes; two voted to strike them all down. The balance of power rested with Justices Stewart, Powell, and Stevens, who issued a joint opinion inaugurating the constitutional regime that has continued until today.

"Abortion, affirmative action, and capital punishment remain deeply divisive and controversial. Perhaps many would not unreservedly endorse Justice Powell's position on all three questions, but we are united in our respect and admiration for the man who produced them.

"His perspective was grounded in the realism of practical experience and leavened by the decency, magnanimity, and dedication he brought to his Office.

"Wherefore, it is accordingly

"RESOLVED that we, as representative members of the Bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, express our admiration and respect for Justice Lewis F. Powell, Jr., our sadness at his death, and our condolences to his family, and it is further

"RESOLVED that the Solicitor General be asked to present these resolutions to the Court and that the Attorney General be asked to move that they be inscribed on the Court's permanent records."

The Chief Justice said:

"The Court recognizes the Attorney General of the United States."

Attorney General Reno addressed the Court as follows:

"Mr. Chief Justice and may it please the Court:

"Although his courtly manners and quiet confidence would lead others to think of him as a patrician, Lewis Powell was not born to wealth. His father worked hard as a manager in a series of businesses when he was a child, and provided opportunities to Lewis, Jr., that he himself had not had. As a schoolboy, Lewis Powell received an award for personal integrity, an honor that would repeatedly be re-won in respect others had for him throughout his life.

"The Solicitor General has already described portions of the Bar resolution that detail Lewis Powell's splendid reputation at the Bar and his tireless efforts in public service of all kinds—including his chairmanship of the Richmond School Board during a time of unparalleled challenge; his lasting initiatives as President of the American Bar Association; and his exceptional service to this country in World War II. Each of these voluntary efforts would be reason enough for the country to extol the memory of Lewis Powell.

"It is also fitting, I think, to mention that he also held the highest offices of the American Bar Association and the American College of Trial Lawyers. He served, as the Solicitor General has noted, as a member of President Johnson's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice, President Nixon's Blue Ribbon Defense

Panel, the National Advisory Committee on Legal Services to the Poor, the Virginia Constitutional Revision Commission, the Board of Trustees of Washington and Lee University, and the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation.

"It is fair to say that Lewis Powell, the Supreme Court Justice drew deeply from the experience of Lewis Powell, the attorney. He brought a cautious and highly sophisticated pragmatism to the Court, and a distrust of doctrinaire prescriptions for complex problems. He characteristically focused on the facts of the case before the Court, striving to do justice in that case as well as fashion rules of general applicability to govern other, similar circumstances. When occasionally the effort to achieve a just result on the given facts implied creation of a new rule of uncertain consequences, Justice Powell strove to do justice in the case while endeavoring to limit the breadth of the Court's decision. The informed 'balancing' of competing interests became his hallmark as a Justice. Particularly on the great issues that tended to divide the country, Justice Powell's capacity to find important elements of truth and justice on each side of the controversy became a powerful source of reconciliation and healing.

"From the time he joined the Court in January of 1972 until his retirement in June 1987, Justice Powell wrote more than 600 opinions, approximately half of them for the Court. Within a short time after his appointment, Justice Powell was writing some of the Court's most important opinions. In his very first Term, he wrote the Court's opinion in Kastigar v. United States, which established the ground rules for the modern application of the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination in the context of immunized testimony.

"Also within months of his appointment, Justice Powell demonstrated his independence from the President who had appointed him by writing for the Court in United States v. United States District Court. In that case the Court rejected the government's assertion of an executive power to wiretap persons without judicial supervision in cases involving national security. But as his opinion for the Court in Dalia v. United States would later demonstrate, the use of a warrantless entry to install eavesdropping equipment would not in and of itself give rise to a Fourth Amendment violation so long as the officers had received the approval of a judge for the wiretapping itself.

"Another decision from his early years on the Court, Almeda-Sanchez v. United States would later develop into a series of Fourth Amendment decisions prescribing carefully nuanced rules to govern searches and seizures at the Nation's borders. Those decisions included

United States v. Brignoni-Ponce, United States v. Ortiz, and United States v. Martinez-Fuerte. A similarly balanced approach can be found in Justice Powell's opinions in a series of cases dealing with the scope of the exclusionary rule.

Justice Powell was an especially authoritative voice in cases involving public education. In his second Term, he wrote the Court's decision in San Antonio Independent School District v. Rodriguez, holding that a publicly-funded education is not a fundamental right triggering strict scrutiny of the financial disparities that may exist between rich and poor school districts. Yet the deference in Rodriguez to local control of public education was counterbalanced a decade later by the Court's holding that a state law prohibiting the children of undocumented aliens from attending public school violated the Constitution. Justice Powell wrote in his concurring opinion in Plyler v. Doe, 'The classification at issue deprives a group of children of the opportunity for education afforded all other children simply because they have been assigned a legal status due to a violation of law by their parents. These children, thus, have been singled out for a lifelong penalty and stigma. A legislative classification that threatens the creation of an underclass of future citizens and residents cannot be reconciled with one of the fundamental purposes of the Fourteenth Amendment.'

Similarly, in a series of opinions under the Equal Protection Clause involving gender discrimination, Justice Powell applied mid-level scrutiny with telling effect—resulting in the Court's invalidation of gender-based discrimination in the military, the ability of pregnant teachers to work, the dissemination of social security benefits, the sale of 3.2 beer, and the rules requiring consent for adoption by an unwed mother but not an unwed father.

Justice Powell will, of course, long be remembered for his eloquent opinion in the Bakke case, which struck down racial quotas but upheld the use of race as a factor in determining who will be admitted to a state professional school. His opinion, although not joining in its entirety by any other Justice, controlled the outcome of the case and serves to this day as a beacon for all who would seek to find constructive common ground on issues of profound divisiveness.

In many other areas of the law, Justice Powell's opinions for the court have left an enduring legacy. He was a leading voice in the Court's modern antitrust jurisprudence. His opinion in Batson v. Kentucky struck down the use of peremptory challenges to jurors on the basis of race. His opinion in Mathews v. Eldridge established the essential rules of procedural due process that continue to determine the constitutionality of governmental restrictions on a person's rights to liberty or property. His opinion in Village of Arlington Heights v. Metropolitan Housing Development Corporation made clear that while discriminatory impact alone is insufficient to establish a constitutional violation, an intent to discriminate is susceptible of proof in practical ways. And in Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company v. Public Service Commission, Justice Powell's opinion articulated the essential criteria for evaluating the validity of governmental restrictions on commercial speech.

"There are many other areas in which Justice Powell's views helped to shape this Court's jurisprudence. For example, in 44 cases involving the Religion Clauses of the First Amendment, Justice Powell was in the majority 93 percent of the time—by far the highest percentage of any Justice with whom he served. As the Solicitor General has noted, in the abortion cases decided during his tenure, he was in the majority 100 percent of the time, from Roe v. Wade through Thornburgh v. American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, even as the contentious issues of consent, public funding, and state restrictions commanded different majorities on the Court.

"Lewis Powell recognized, in his many areas of endeavor, that individuals can make a significant difference in this world. The attributes that marked his life journey are ones everyone can admire: his determination in finding solutions to human problems, his unfailing courtesy to others, and his dedication to achieving results that helped diverse factions find common ground.

"Mr. Chief Justice, on behalf of the lawyers of this Nation and particularly the Bar of this Court, I respectfully request that the Resolutions presented to you be accepted by this Court, and that they, together with the chronicle of these proceedings, be ordered kept for all time in the records of this Court."

The Chief Justice said:

"Thank you, Attorney General Reno, thank you General Waxman for your presentation today in memory of our late friend and colleague, Lewis Powell.

"We also extend to Chairman John Jeffries and the members of the Committee on Resolutions, Chairman William Kelly and the members of the Arrangements Committee, and Assistant Attorney General Joel Klein, Chairman of today's meeting of the Supreme Court Bar, our appreciation for the Resolutions you have provided today. Your motion that they be made part of the permanent record of the Court is hereby granted.

"Lewis Powell was nominated to be an Associate Justice of this Court at age 64 in October 1971. It is fair to say he did not seek office—public office sought him. As the Bar Resolutions and the Attorney General have noted, Lewis Powell had a firmly established reputation as a leader of the Bar of his native Richmond, of his native State of Virginia, and of the United States.

"Of 16 Justices, with whom I have served in more than 27 years on the Court, I think that only 2 would be long remembered in the annals of legal history had they not been appointed to the Supreme Court. Thurgood Marshall was one, and Lewis Powell was the other. Thurgood Marshall would have been remembered for the prominent up-front role he played in litigating landmark civil rights cases in the 1940's and 1950's. Lewis Powell would have been remembered for his building of Hunton & Williams into a national firm in a city the size of Richmond, Virginia, as president of the American Bar Association, president of the American College of Trial Lawyers, and a member of several blue-ribbon commissions. Byron White would have been remembered for his athletic accomplishments, but as for the rest of us; had we not been appointed to the Supreme Court, we would have been perhaps more affluent, but certainly less well known.

"Lewis Powell was a bear for work. During his 15 year tenure, he wrote over 600 opinions. The Bar Resolutions, the Solicitor General, and the Attorney General have pointed out the major contributions that Justice Powell made to the body of decisional law during his 15 year tenure on this Court. Virtually all of the opinions thus mentioned decide questions of constitutional law, and it is understandable that this should be so. I want to point out one opinion which Lewis Powell wrote that did not involve a constitutional question, but which is probably the most frequently cited opinion in briefs today of any opinion from the Court.

"That case is Harlow v. Fitzgerald, which decided in 1982. There we held in an opinion by Justice Powell that high ranking officials of the Executive Branch—and that holding has since been extended to most public officials exercising discretionary authority—are entitled to qualified immunity against suits for damages. More importantly, the qualified immunity is to be based on the objective reasonableness of the actions of the officials. Before Harlow, there was a subjective element involved which as a practical matter prevented summary judgment before discovery in just about every case.

"As the Bar Resolutions have pointed out, but I none the less would like to emphasize the Supreme Court appointment was not the first call to duty heeded by Lewis Powell. In 1941, at the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor, he was 34 years old, 7 years out of law school, and a partner at Hunton and Williams. He had two children at the time, and would have been excluded from the draft, but he nonetheless volunteered and was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the U. S. Army Air Force. He rose in rank to Colonel, he won the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star, serving overseas with distinction as an Intelligence Officer in the Air Force for four years during World War II and its aftermath.

"He served here at the Court with equal distinction. He brought a rare combination of ability, fair-mindedness, and grace to the Court. He had the consummate judicial temperament. His capacity and willingness to see both sides of an issue, and his manner in persuading others to his own views resulted in his extraordinary influence during his tenure here.

"Those of us who served with him during his 15 years on the Court cherished his intellect and gentlemanly charm. He managed to present his views in Conference forcefully without departing from his naturally gracious manner, particularly towards colleagues who expressed opposing views. Those of us who served with him continue to miss him. Our Nation is the better for his having served it in the many ways that he did."

Adjourned until Monday, May 24, 1999, at 10 o'clock.
